in the garden*

Wow, we've had a bountiful garden this season!

Thank you to all the families that have helped to make this year another very productive garden season.

We've shown the children so many different types of vegetables, herbs and sunflowers and where they come from as well as how to compost! During outdoor play time different classes have gone to the garden and picked the veggies; tomatoes, cucumbers, green beans, beets, kale, Swiss chard, peppers, broccoli, carrots & watermelon. This is very exciting for the kids and a great way to show them the rewards of their hard work and efforts that they and their families put into the garden.

An important piece of our garden is to teach the children the idea of community and "giving back" in various ways. We were able to make our annual delivery of fresh produce to S.T.E.P. - fresh produce is so important to keep in our local food shelves.

As the end of our gardening season nears we would like to invite our Kid Zone community to a "Harvest Table Tasting" event to celebrate our abundant selection of produce as a "thank you" to everyone for their hard work.
